OUR SHARED FUTURE

Today, we are invading the whales' world.

Our habits destroy their habitat.

Our appetites devour their food.

Our plastics and poisons pollute their world.

Aquariums aren't the major threat to the survival of these magnificent beings—our lifestyle is. Our impact is global and, for whales, often fatal.

Their world is our world.

We need to save the oceans—for their sake, for our sake and for our shared future.
