

Panel 29

WE ARE ALL FAMILY

Thanks to the Southern Residents, we have a better understanding of the threats to orcas everywhere.

Scientists, Indigenous leaders, activists and animal lovers around the world are working together to protect orcas and oceans.

Global networks are working to improve ocean conditions and protect marine life in captivity and the wild.

Orcas have shown us that it's time to clean up our planet. We can all help. Restoring the health of our oceans will take time, so we must start now.